

The Third Time the Charm.

(To the Editor of The Interior Journal.)

KINGSVILLE, Jan. 25.—According to promise, we will send you an, to some, interesting item of the matrimonial species. Last Tuesday night your scribe was hugely enjoying his rest, and had wound off the time to the "wee ama' hours ayont the twal," when "at my chamber door there came a knocking," which upon inspection proved not to be a raven, but two young men, one already a benedict, and the other madly raving in his futile attempts to soon be. The young men in question were H. S. Young, of Highland, and the other L. N. Taylor, of Ansel, Pulaski county, on the rock ribbed hills of Fishing. They were on their way to make a cavalry charge on the classic halls of Christian College, and kidnap a young ewe lamb, Miss Ella Mayfield, of Pulaski, a lovely school marm of His Highness, W. J. Davidson's corps. It seems that this was their third attempt to escape the irate pater familias, and had been unsuccessful, the first through a misfit of their own, and the second owing to the extra wind and quicker time of "old dad's mar," who overtook them after a few miles' dash and first read them a Sunday-school lesson, thickly interspersed with rugged bumps of rhetoric, to all of which they quietly submitted, and sensibly agreed to bide their time, which came none too soon for them to appreciate. From here they sped to McKinney and fearing to proceed immediately to Hustonville, lest they flush the quarry in the flush of morn, abided for a time in the waiting room of the depot and when the rosy morn awoke with the sparkling rhyme upon her brow, procured a double rig and dashed away to where the loadstone of one of the party lay. They made a maternal descent upon the family of Dr. Humphrey, found the same preparing to re-inforce the inner man by an application of the morning meal. Miss Ella was equal to the occasion and "I'll be ready in ten minutes" showed how her heart was set upon the matter, caused but little delay, when they then made a sunburst for some way station on the L. & N. to avoid the fatal lightning. They made quick time to Maywood, where they boarded a train for the friendly bosom of a sister State, Tennessee, to reap the fruition of their hopes and thereby elude "old dad." To-day's train South bore the smiling pair, now but one, on their return to their native heath, and their respective school rooms. May joy be theirs; may she ne'er regret the change, and may he never live to mourn the day upon which he changed the Mayfield into a Taylor (shop).

MURLEY JOHN.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Mr. John McGee, of Livingston, is visiting friends here. Mrs. Zellers is with her sister, Mrs. Holdam.

—The Beautiful has put in another appearance, with the prospect of a protracted stay, but with Shakespeare, we would say "uninvited guests are welcome when they are absent."

—Mrs. Clara Singleton is re-covering and remodeling her residence, which will be quite an improvement. May others follow her example. A few enterprising citizens can soon work up a spirit of internal improvement, which is so much needed in our now quiet and pleasant little town.

—Miss Sallie Green is visiting friends in Danville. Her genial presence is much missed. Dr. Walter Beazley is at home for a brief sojourn. Mr. Joe Brooks is a pleasant visitor to his mother and sister. Mr. and Mrs. George, of Lancaster, are guests of Mrs. Clara Singleton. Mr. Raymond Haseldine is mingling among friends here.

"If your husband ill treats you, you should heap coals of fire on his head," said the missionary. "Well, sorr," replied Mrs. Raderty, "oi didn't do that exactly, but oi did the next thing to it, oi hit him on the head with the poker, but it didn't do a bit of good, sorr."—Harper's Bazar.

—A photographic instrument has been invented that can take pictures of flying bullets on an exposure of only one-millionth of a second.

—The total output of canned tomatoes in 1894 in the United States was 134,567,990 cans against 107,500,000 cans in 1893.

—The opal is the only gem which cannot be counterfeited. Its delicate tints cannot be reproduced.

—Mrs. Maggie Gill is on trial in New York for beating her aged mother to death.

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. If you have never used this great Cough Medicine, one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at A. R. Penny's drug store. Large bottles 50c and $1.

Mr. Ira P. Wetmore, a prominent real estate man, San Angelo, Texas, has used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in his family for several years as occasion required, and always with perfect success. He says: "I find it a perfect cure for my baby when troubled with colic or dysentery. I know that my outfit is not complete without a bottle of this remedy at home or on a trip away from home." For sale by Dr. S. G. Hocker, druggist, Stanford.

SANCTIFICATION.

What is it and How Obtained?

The following sermon was preached by E. D. W. L. Williams at Hustonville recently. The old gentleman's head, which has grown white in the service of his Master, is generally level, and we usually publish what he sends with the confidence that he was sure he was right before he went ahead.

"Sanctify them through thy truth, thy word is truth." John 17:17.

In his book on "Natural Laws of the Spiritual World," Dr. Drummond states that the visible phenomena of nature are but the "ends of those that are invisible and spiritual." But while the material world may be but the fringe of the spiritual and the external as but the drapery of the internal and invisible, yet there are doubtless large realms of spiritual truth concerning which the voice of nature is dumb. But as God is one, that which is natural must coincide with that which is spiritual. There is such a correspondence between the natural and the spiritual as to cause our Lord to employ the one as an illustration of the other. By reason of this Adam's sin "judgment came upon all men to condemnation, and death passed upon all men," and the death that sin brought upon the body was the visible token of the corresponding death, the same cause inflicted upon the soul. Temporal and spiritual death "by nature" reigns over the entire race of man, but the second Adam has come to remove sin and death, from soul and body, and restore man to peace and communion with God and a joy more ecstatic than he ever knew in his Eden home.

The Bible describes the natural state of man as one of spiritual death, as "dead in trespasses," as the "children of wrath" and "condemned already." In harmony with this description of his spiritual state, his recovery from this sinful state is represented as "quickened together with Christ," as "created anew in Christ unto good works," as "born again," and as a "new creature."

That which imparts spiritual life to the soul is none other than Christ himself "formed in the soul," and who is our "hope of glory." There is danger at this point, in view of the nebulous mysticism of much of the late revival preaching, that the mind be led off from its personal acceptance of Christ and trust in him, into a visionary, dream-like hallucination of the wildest bewilderment and become so utterly befogged as to ignore reason and the plain teaching of the word of God, under the delusion that the accidental opening to any given chapter or verse in the Bible is positive evidence that the Lord did it in order to guide the reader.

When Christ Jesus, our only Lord and hope, is supplanted by the wild vagaries of a distorted imagination, then he is caused to suffer in the house of his friends. When the soul first believes upon Christ so as to accept and trust in him alone for salvation, that truth that differentiates his new life from his old life, is the truth that Christ Jesus has been voluntarily accepted and is now "formed in his soul" as the spiritual factor and principle of his Christian life. To allow this truth to become overshadowed by a mysticism generated by an irrational enthusiasm to that extent is a de-thronement of Christ.

Since then "Christ formed in the soul" is the beginning of the new life, this "new creature" (the invisible) finds its analogy in the old creature, (the visible) the beginning of life, both natural and spiritual, is its babyhood. This one word describes each as being its weak and smallest state.

What new things has the new creature received? 1. He has received Christ. 2. He has received the Holy Spirit. 3. He has received pardon. 4. The love of God shed abroad in his heart. 5. Hope of Heaven. 6. The promise, "Lo I am with you always."

What now is to be the future life on earth of such? God governs all life, natural and spiritual, by fixed law. The laws governing all life require first, food, second, proper environment, third, exercise.

What is now to be the food for the soul? Jesus responds, "I am the bread of life." "He who came down from Heaven and gave His life unto the world." "Receive with meekness the engrafted word which is able to save your souls." "Be ye doers of the word and not hearers only." The new life is to be perpetuated in the use of the same truth that gave it being. "As you receive Christ so are you to walk in Him."

A second law of life is a proper environment. This law is also a necessity for all life. The fragrant flower requires its given soil and atmosphere. It cannot live with sawdust for soil and frost and ice for its petals. Analogous to material life is spiritual life. If the life of Christ is preserved in the soul the surroundings of this soul must be homogeneous with Christ. Being "rooted and grounded" in the faith of Christ, then the moral influences brought to bear upon the soul is of vital importance. For "evil communications will corrupt good manners." The young or old Christian who consents to make daily companions of the profane will soon lose the spirit of Christ and turn against him. The young Christian who consents to visit the ball-room in search of pleasure as a spectator will soon yield to the invitation to accept a partner in the dance, and the habit once formed, the spiritual life is soon enervated and the prayer meeting and secret prayer lose their sweetness, and spiritual life is withered and dies. The soul can not prosper and maintain cordial relationship with with moral evil. Good books only should be read. Good associations only should be formed. Spiritual life can not be preserved in vigor while the Lord's day is consumed in idle pleasure or otherwise than in living in loving fellowship with Jesus Christ. They who are planted in the house of the Lord shall flourish in the courts of our God.

3 The "new creature" requires exercise. Exercise is another universal law of spiritual life. It is expressed by Jesus in these words: "He that saves his life shall lose it; he that loses his life for my sake shall find it." This law of exercise is embodied in the Savior's own life. That life was wholly expended for others. His own personal interests could only be promoted by giving all of his time and all of his energies and all of his endowments for others' good. Because Jesus humbled Himself and made Himself of no reputation, though equal with the Father, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross, on this account God gave to Him His throne of regency and placed upon His brow the crown of universal Lordship, and summoned to His presence every angel in the Heavens and gave proclamation, "Let all the angels of God worship Him."

Along this same line of unselfish consecration and self sacrifice for the good of others, can our own true and highest interests be only secured. We are serving God only as we are serving others. Jesus gathers up all the unselfish deeds of our lives, performed like his own, for others' good and says of them: "Because you have done these things unto the least of my disciples, ye have done them unto Me."

The sanctification taught in the word of God is no mysterious, invisible, almighty power of the Holy Ghost sent directly down from God and instantaneously lifting the soul up into a state of conscious, sinless perfection, and with vociferous ejaculations of mingled laughter and smiles of joy, sending them forth to tell when and how "they got it." No, no; but Bible sanctification is the free, voluntary surrender of all we are and of all we have, to be used now and forever according to the will of Christ. Hence Jesus taught his disciples to pray, "Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven," and as the law of the spiritual world finds its true expression in this prayer, so it is to become concrete in the personal life of each Christian.

"No man can live unto himself." God has linked human destinies together. Each one is leading others with him up to heaven, or dragging them down to hell. Am I doing the will of Christ with all the time I have? With all the influence I have? With all the money I have? Am I doing all the good I can? And in as many ways as I can? Am I doing good to all the people I can? Then I must continue to do so as long as ever I can. Could I love my enemies more and overcome the evil in others more by showing to them kindness and love? Do I find myself perfect and complete in all the will of God? Here is where the sanctification of the Bible comes in—"If you know these things happy are you if you do them." "If you do these things you shall never fall." "Blessed are they that do his commandments."

It is proper to observe in this connection that all real Christians are sanctified and this sanctification is coextensive with their conversion, yet all are by no means sanctified to the same extent. But it may be responded: Did not the Savior teach His disciples, "Be ye perfect as your Father in Heaven is perfect?" and the fact that He thus taught is positively proof that a life of absolute holiness is attainable in the flesh? I heard a holiness in the Methodist church at Moreland, by the name of Keene, make the avowal with all the emphasis possible, that "he was as holy as God." Yes, Jesus said this teach "Be ye perfect as your Father is perfect," but none of His Apostles ever professed to have reached that spiritual point. Nor did any of them ever conduct a holiness meeting to induce the disciples by prayer and "bodily exercise" to seek to be uplifted instantly into this state of sinless perfection.

For rheumatism I have found nothing equal to Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It relieves the pain as soon as applied. J. W. Young, West Liberty, W. Va. The prompt relief it affords is alone worth many times the cost, 50 cents. Its continued use will effect a permanent cure. For sale by Dr. S. G. Hocker, druggist, Stanford.

Bucklin's Arnica Salve: The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions. It positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by A. R. Penny, Stanford, Ky.

LANCASTER, CARRARD COUNTY.

—It has been agreed to hold the union service at the Presbyterian church every Sunday night until that congregation employs a regular pastor.

—The local lodge, Knights of Pythias had seven candidates for the first degree at a recent meeting. It will have work every Friday night for some time to come.

—Miss Katie Simpson is the guest of Miss Georgia Miller. Mr. Sam Harris, of Louisville, is visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Harris. Mrs. W. G. Dunlap, of Lexington, is visiting relatives here. Miss Jeanie Lackey has returned from Staunton. Mr. Ed Arnold is attending Commercial College in Louisville. Mr. Raymond Haseldine is in Crab Orchard on business.

—Thursday afternoon the fire bell was rung for the fourth time this month. Some one was burning trash on the public square and the smoke went up through the tiling into the tin gutter leading to the roof of the Hemphill store-room, occupied by Mrs. E. A. Pascoe. It looked as though the roof was a fire under the tin and considerable excitement was created before the cause of the trouble was located. The sound of the fire bell sends a cold chill through every Lancaster citizen's body.

—Quite a stir was created Friday last, when Marshal W. A. Arnold arrested Henry Reddick and wife, of color, on the charge of firing the Miller Hotel. Those concerned in the case refuse to talk or give out any information, but it seems that Reddick, who was a trusted employe of the hotel had a fuss with his wife and whipped her. She, in her anger, and in order to get even with him, told some parties that he, Reddick, had set fire to the Miller Hotel and had also stolen a lot of goods therefrom. Marshal Arnold heard of this and in company with Mr. Masters, brother-in-law of Pascoe, and several other parties went to Reddick's house and arrested him and his wife. Search was then made and large quantities of knives, forks, spoons, sheets, &c., all marked "Miller Hotel," were found. The parties were lodged in jail and an examining trial will be held to day before Judge Burnside. It is impossible to get any further information now, but some interesting things will no doubt be brought out at the trial.

—By a vote of 31 to 21 the Senate passed the bill pledging the credit of the United States for the construction of the Nicaragua canal. The bill provides for the guarantee of $70,000,000 of the bonds of the Maritime Canal Company by the United States, in return for which the Government is to receive $70,000,000 of the company's stock. Senator Blackburn voted against and Senator Lindsay was paired against it.

—The Nebraska Legislature has appropriated $50,000 for the relief of destitution in that part of the State most severely stricken by the drouth last summer. The State is 16 inches behind in rain and the recent snow storm was hailed with delight.

—The French wine crop for 1894, including Corsica and Algiers, amounted to 1,117,870,000 gallons, valued at $185,800,000, at 16 cents per gallon. The crop was smaller than in the preceding year by 286,442,000 gallons.

—Mrs. Aivin McRynolds, wife of a compositor on the Times-Star, was literally roasted to death by the explosion of a coal-oil can at her home, in Newport.

—Twenty-one barges of coal belonging to the towns of the Tom Reese No. 2, and the Mariner, were sunk Friday evening opposite Hickman.

—Judge Alfred Yapple, noted jurist and authoritative writer on legal question, died at Cincinnati Saturday.

"Forgive me," he pleaded contritely; "I didn't mean to kiss you, but the impulse was irresistible." "Forgive you?" she snapped. "Never while I live! A girl may forgive a man for kissing her, but never for apologizing afterwards."—Barrington (La.) Gazette.

Any one who has children will rejoice with L. B. Mulford, of Plainville, N. J. His little boy five years of age, was sick with croup. For two days and nights he tried various remedies recommended by friends and neighbors. He says: "I thought sure I thought sure I would lose him! I had seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised and thought I would try it as a last hope and am happy to say that after two doses he slept until morning. I gave it to him next day and a cure was effected. I keep this remedy in the house now and as soon as any of my children show signs of croup I give it to them and that is the last of it."

W. P. WALTON.

DYCHE, of the London Echo, having cleansed himself for the first time in his life, with the soap given him for a Christmas present in view of the fact that he needed a good washing, is experiencing such a strange and unusual feeling that he imagines he is sanctified and devotes a number of articles in his paper to us because we do not go wild over every dogma some irresponsible person may present. We have great respect for religion pure and undefiled and for that reason we dislike to have it brought into ridicule by such scenes as Carradine and his adherents make possible. Dyche's defense of such things is all the worse for them. His mental capacity is such that he is "tossed to and fro, and carried about by every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive" in stead of "proving all things and holding fast to that which is good." The London editor is, however, in no danger of losing his mind on account of embracing this new fangled form of a resurrected relic of the darker ages, because it is impossible for a man to lose that which he never had, but we would advise him to stick to politics, as ignorant as he is of the science, and not attempt to carry the favor of a certain class of people by advocating that which knows nothing about and brow beating those whom he can not answer in sensible argument.

The statement in the Louisville Times that Congressman A. B. Montgomery, of Elizabethtown, will shortly announce himself a candidate for governor bears on its very face the odor of its own improbability. The man whom a republican turned down for Congress in a largely democratic district by over 1,000 majority, certainly has not the gall to ask the State to take him up after his district has so signally shelved him. The stone which the builders rejected will never become the head of the corner.

The eagle being a National emblem the republicans have no right in law or justice to use it as a party device. One or two courts have decided that they have not and it is likely that the next billots will not show a picture of the bird of freedom. At the meeting of the State republican committee at Louisville last week, it was suggested that a five-pointed star with a large letter "R" in the centre, be adopted as the republican election design and it will likely be done.

The president has signed the urgent deficiency bill, carrying among other things an appropriation for the collection of the income tax. Certain members of the Senate tried hard to defeat the bill, but it was finally passed as it came from the House. The estimated revenue to be derived from this tax is $30,000,000, which is more than enough to make up the present deficit. It is said that 30,000 persons and 150,000 corporations will have to pony up under the law.

Gov. McCREARY is opposed to the extension of the civil service rules to the consular and diplomatic service for several reasons, one being that the certainty of protracted residence abroad would simply convert our representatives into foreigners, with decreasing interest in home affairs. The extension of the civil service rules to anything is a rank imposition on the party given power. "To the victors belong the spoils" and they ought to have them.

The Senate by a vote of 24 to 22 sustained President Cleveland's policy in regard to Hawaii and declared that he deserves the approval and support of the American people. Senator Pettigrew, of South Dakota, was the only republican manly enough to vote his honest sentiments in the matter of absolute non-interference, unless by agreement, with the affairs of other nations.

LOVING GAINES, of the Elkhorn Progress, is tempting fate by buying fast horses. He should study the experiences of John Gaines, of the Bowling Green Bee, Jim Richardson, of the Glasgow Times, and Frank Spotswood, of the Harrodsburg Democrat, in the race horse business, and save himself before it is everlastingly too late.

COL. CRADDOCK is a bold bad man. He tells in large letters of the death of his son-in-law, Lord Churchill, though there is no record that he himself was ever married. The shock of the announcement is not so much over the death as the treason confession the old man makes in it of his depravity.

There should not be any hesitancy on the part of Congress in increasing the tax on beer, if by that means the strain on the treasury can be relieved. Beer is not a necessity and luxuries, especially of an intoxicating kind, should be made to pay the highest tax possible.

The Covington Post gets off the worst one on Editor Knott, of the Louisville Post, that we have seen, when it says that the Scriptures tell us that "He that believeth Knott shall be damned."

Guatemala is about to declare war upon Mexico.

A CASE of the bitter getting bit is reported in New York. A Yankee came all the way from his mountain home to meet a "green goods" man, who was to sell him all the counterfeit money he could dispose of for a nominal sum. To show him how much like the genuine the goods were he exhibited $1,600 in good bills, which the Yankee grabbed and hitting the fellow with a boot jack, which was lying near, ran off and got to the station house with his booty. Unfortunately the lick was not fatal and when the police got to the room, the game had flown.

NEWSY NOTES.

—Corea is exactly the size of Kansas, 82,000 square miles.

—The bill for a $50,000 public building at Paris has been favorably reported in the Senate.

—Coffins are now made out of paper and are said to be more durable than wooden ones.

—Tennessee proposes to celebrate the centennial of its Statehood by holding an exposition in Nashville in 1896.

—Eight men, three women and two children were lost at sea by the sinking of five coal barges off the coast of New York.

—The gold reserve is now down to about $50,000,000 and the prospect of another issue of $100,000,000 in bonds is good.

—President Cleveland was to send to Congress yesterday a message on the necessity of legislation for the relief of the treasury.

—Fred Ward, who broke Gen. Grant and afterwards served seven years in the penitentiary, is now working for $6 a week in a clerk's office at Genesee, New York.

—A bottle of wine, so heavily drugged that one swallow might have been fatal, was sent from Louisville to William Meaney, of Somerville, N. J., by some person unknown.

—Judge Jackson, of Louisville, decides that the plea as to the unconstitutionality of the Kentucky election law can not be considered, and that the statute must stand.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Richards, of Columbus, O., dreamed that her house was on fire. Awakening suddenly she ran to a window and leaped out, sustaining injuries from which she died.

—In some counties witnesses are selling their claims against the State at 50 cents on the dollar, preferring to do that to await the indefinite resumption of payment of all such claims.

—The four children of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cole, of Lawrence county, were taken to Louisa suffering from hydrophobia. They bark like dogs and go into spasms at the sight of water.

—Three republican members of the Indiana Legislature will side with the democrats against the bill to deprive the governor of the power of appointing trustees of State institutions.

—Miss Willette Robinson, of San Francisco, didn't scream when she caught a thief in her mother's room at a hotel. She coolly locked him up in the elevator and then went after a policeman.

—The new French cabinet formed by M. Ribot was officially announced Sunday. The French press expresses surprise at the composition of the cabinet, but the criticisms are not unfriendly.

—As the result of a war among the grocers at Elizabethtown, granulated sugar is selling at 25 lbs for $1 and New Orleans at 35 pounds for the same money, with other goods proportionately low.

—Jack Sewell, of Waco, who saved a half-dozen lives when the ferryboat loaded with merry-seekers sank in Kentucky river some months ago, lost one of his children that ventured too near a blazing fire.

—A memorial to the Nebraska Legislature has been presented requesting the Nebraska Congressional delegation to work for the deportation of Mgr. Satolli and prohibiting his return to this country.

—The judge has extended the Mt. Sterling court to enable the grand jury to fully investigate the Blair lynching. Indictment against four have been returned, including one against the ex-jailer, James Best.

—A bill has been passed by the Alabama Senate, which, if it should become a law, would enable the Southern Railway Company to exercise control of the Alabama Great Southern, thus knocking out the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton.

—Wm. H. McGrath, of Philadelphia, shot and killed his 8-year-old daughter and then killed himself. He left a note stating that both himself and daughter were affected with a nervous trouble that he believed incurable and that death was preferable.

—The Mafia, which has been quiet since a New Orleans mob lynched several of its members, is again showing signs of activity. The murder of an Italian Wednesday was followed by a demand upon one of the wealthiest Italians in New Orleans for $2,000, upon pain of assassination.

—Kuchan, a walled town in Persia, which had 25,000 inhabitants in 1890, was entirely destroyed by an earthquake, Jan. 17th. The loss to life was enormous. Most of the victims were crushed to death by falling buildings, but many were burned to death, the ruins in which they were entangled having caught fire. Six hundred were entombed in a mosque while engaged in prayer. Six hundred others perished in the various baths.

—Florida is the largest State east of the Mississippi, its area exceeding that of Georgia about 1,000 square miles. It is seven times as large as Massachusetts, 50 times as large as Rhode Island, and one-third larger than New York.

—One of the locomotives on the Big Four on Wednesday night last hauled six cars, weighing 274 tons, up a grade 37 feet to the mile, at the rate of 55 miles an hour. The engine is of a new type, designed by Chief Engineer Garstang.

—The fad now is for newspapers to let ladies have the profits of one issue to be edited wholly by them. The Cleveland, O., Plaindealer was so issued Friday. The first two numbers were printed on white silk, and were sold for over $1,000 apiece.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—Fine blue grass seed for sale. B. K. Wearen.

—Choice seed oats for sale. C. C. Carpenter, Hustonville.

—Joseph Coffey bought in the West End, a bunch of fat cattle at 2½ to 3c.

—Red Wilkes, now 21 years old, has 109 sons and daughters in the 2:30 list.

—All races for this year at Washington Park, Chicago, have been declared off.

—The death of May Marshall, 2:08½, takes another worthy from the great 2:10 list.

—Lambs and export sheep are 1 cent to 1½ cents higher than they were in September.

—Seven French racing associations distributed last year over $1,000,000 in purses and stakes.

—Stone & McVey sold 3 to 4-year-old males, 15 hands high at Richmond, Va., for $65 per head.

—There were 1,715,000 more hogs killed in the principal packing points in the U. S. this season than were last.

—I want to loan out 25 two-year-old mules to good hands. Call at my house Monday, Feb. 4th. M. S. Baughman.

—W. E. McAfee has entered Hustler Russell, 2:17½, in Woodard & Shanklin's combination sale at Lexington, Feb. 4 to 9.

—Pattie D., 2:12½, pacing, sold for $1,950 at the Buffalo horse sale. She will be sold again at public auction next month at Lexington.

—For SALE.—12 or 14 nice shoats weight from 75 to 100 pounds. Apply to Mrs. Lizzie Williams or Miss Fannie Givens, Mt. Salem neighborhood.

—Dr. J. G. Carpenter shipped Saturday to his friend, Dr. Price, in Philadelphia, six choice bred brood mares he bought in this and Boyle county.

—H. F. Hillenmyer, of Lexington, an authority on such matters, writes the Danville Advocate that his observation is that the severe weather has not materially injured the fruit prospects.

—The Glasgow Times says that the fruit in that section has so far not been harmed by the numerous freezes. The same paper thinks the fruit yield of 1895 will be something unprecedented in its immensity.

—Doc Drye, of the West End, will handle a string of horses this year. He is one of the best saddle horse men in the State. It will be remembered that Mr. Drye brought W. A. Tribble's Kate Malloy into prominence.

—For the last two years there have been just 13 five-year-olds to win $5,000 and over each. Last year the 13 captured 123 races and $109,772. The total won by 348 performers five years old and over was over two millions of dollars.

—A Woodford county trader tells the Clipper on his return from Atlanta that the horse and mule market is extremely dull, in fact in a worse condition than he ever saw it. He sold 17 common mules at an average of $50 and nine work horses at $45 each.

—Geo. W. Jones sold in Lincoln county to different parties 39 feeding cattle at from 2½ to 3½ cents. He also bought in the county in the last few days 153-year-old cattle weighed 1,000 pounds at 3 cents and 36 250 pound hogs at 3.60.—Somer set Paragon.

—R. Collins, of O'Bannon, lost by worthless dogs 34 fine ewes out of a flock of 35 just beginning to lamb. Samuel Owens, of West Lincoln, sold to Jesse & Norman Hambrick, of Scott county, 34 head of cattle, 850 pounds average, at 3½ and J. L. Beck sold to same parties 16 head at $43 per head.—Advocate.

—A small crowd attended Lancaster court Monday and little business was transacted. About 50 cattle were on the market, but only about half of them were sold. Steer calves brought $15, butcher stuff 2 to 2½; milk cows $14 to $27; heavy yoke of oxen brought $100. No horses were offered.

—The following query from an exchange is turned over to the members of the legal fraternity and to any others who may wish to tackle it: "Smith found a $10 gold piece lying in the road; he gave it to Brown to settle a meat bill; Brown gave it to Jones to settle a grocery account; Jones turned it over to Baker in payment of balance on lumber; Baker returned it to Smith in settlement of a note; Smith took it to the bank to deposit it, when the cashier threw it out as counterfeit. Now, were those various amounts paid?"

PERSONAL POINTS.

Dr. C. M. Thompson, of Kingsville, is attending a course of lectures in Cincinnati.

Miss Annie Hays, of Honey Grove, Texas, is visiting her uncle, Mr. J. C. Hays.

Mr. Virgil Smith, of Louisville, came up Saturday to visit one of Lincoln county's prettiest and loveliest girls.

Mrs. Wm. Kerr left Thursday night for West Virginia in response to a dispatch that her mother was very ill.

Mr. L. D. Sampson, late of Barbourville, is now on the Covington Post, and he getting in his work to the fullest advantage.

Mrs. Steele Bailey took her mother, Mrs. St. Clair, to Rome, Ga., Friday with the hope that a change of climate would restore her health.

Mrs. Steele Bailey took her mother, Mrs. St. Clair, to Rome, Ga., Friday, with the hope that a change of climate would restore her health.

Mrs. J. B. Owens and Miss Minnie VanArsdale returned with Miss Sue Rount from Harrodsburg and spent a day or two at Mrs. John W. Rount's.

Miss Mary Brazley returned from a pleasant visit to Miss Laura Jarboe at Lebanon, a few days ago and is now with her sister, Mrs. P. C. Sandidge.

Misses Mattie and Emma Owsley have returned from Nashville, Tenn. Miss Emma is in fine health and they left Mrs. Manier much improved.

Miss Octavia Sizemore is soliciting subscriptions and renewals for the Ladies' Home Journal, endeavoring to secure a scholarship at the Boston Conservatory of Music, offered by that paper.

In remitting his subscription, Capt. E. T. Rochester writes from Dallas, Texas: "We are having delightful spring weather; only had two or three cold days this winter. It has not rained for four months."

Mrs. Bettie C. Pennybacker and her pretty daughter, Miss Agnes, of Kingsville, visited this office last week. They were accompanied by Mrs. Leonard Boice, of Chattanooga, and Miss Beatrice Morrissey, of Lexington, who are their guests.

Hon. Harvey Helm, of Lincoln, who made one of the best representatives that county ever had in the last General Assembly, will be solicited to again serve his county in that capacity. His record in the last legislature was an honor to himself and his constituents. He ought to have no opposition, and doubtless will not have, should he decide to make the race.—Danville (Cor. Harrodsburg Sayings).

I AM now agent for the Blue-Grass Laundry and solicit your patronage. W. H. Shanks.

The sleigh bells were jingling merrily last evening, but the snow was too dry for nice running.

We must close up our business and if you don't pay us, we will be compelled to take other steps to collect the money. Yeager & Yeager.

If you have a good time piece it ought to be repaired by an expert workman. Take it to Deekelmann, at Penny's Drug and Jewelry Store.

The Sunday morning's mail hour hereafter, so P. M. Rount tells us, will be from 8 to 9 o'clock and the afternoon hour as before, 1:45 to 2:45.

NOTICE—Your 1894 dog tax is due and must be paid at once to the marshal or myself or your dog must suffer the penalties imposed by law. G. B. Wearen, city clerk.

HENRY REDDICK and wife, who are in jail at Lancaster charged with the burning of the Miller House, used to live here and worked at the Myers House. The examination will occur Wednesday.

Just received a car load of farm implements, wagons and Oliver plows. Big reduction in prices all round. Genuine Oliver points only 30 cents. Beware of bogus plow repairs. J. K. VanArsdale.

The attendance at the Knights of Pythias lodge here is getting so large that the seating capacity is over taxed and the Odd Fellows, who own the hall, have been called on to supply it with more chairs.

The Louisville Daily Post is $5 a year and the SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL $2, and yet we will send them both one year post paid for $4. In other words we will give you 416 papers at less than a cent a piece. Now is the time to subscribe.

THE house and lot of A. A. Warren, on Danville street, sold at auction Saturday to Mr. J. S. Rice for $1,600.

ONE THOUSAND bushels of seed oats for sale. You will save money by seeing me before you buy. B. K. Wearen.

AUNT LIZA GIVENS, mother of the large colored family of that name, died Sunday night, aged about 90. She was a good old woman and had many white friends.

THE grand jury has returned an indictment of murder against Frank Ellis, for killing Micajah Rowsey, but it is not thought the case will tried this term.—Advocate.

A LETTER from our Williamsburg correspondent for our issue of the 11th came bounding in Friday morning. Omnipotence only knows where it has been since it started on its swing around the circle.

By getting knocked out of a date at another point, Bates Bros.' Humpty Dumpty was enabled to appear here last night and the prospect was that a big crowd would enjoy the amusing performance.

A. REHM, an expert machinist, has been here to examine the machinery at the water works, and pronounced it in excellent condition, considering that the men in charge had never before handled such things.

THE theatrical event of the season at Danville will be rendition of Hoyt's "A Bunch of Keys or the Hotel" by a metropolitan company, February 4th, and it will be well worth a drive from here to witness it.

Mrs. N. J. Horton, of the Preachersville vicinity, tells us that she has an aunt in Lexington, Mrs. Sallie Bogie, who has 10 children, 54 grand-children, 24 great-grand-children and two great-great-grand-children.

TO TEACHERS.—Questions for examination of public school graduates have been received. Should any of your pupils desire to take the examination, and if successful receive diploma, they can do so at my office on Thursday next, Jan. 31, commencing at 8:30, sharp. This examination is not for teachers. Fee, the same as in teachers' examination. W. F. McClary, Supt.

THE inspection car passed up Friday with Superintendent Pike and several other high officials on board, together with a number of the section foremen from the main line. Mr. Pike is very much pleased with the condition in which Road Master F. M. Ansley keeps his division of the road and he took the foremen over it to give them an idea of how he wants things done.

A DISPATCH from Harrodsburg says that the Vanarsdale trial is likely to be continued at the next term because there will be no one to conduct it, Judge Sauley being sick and the local lawyers being engaged on one side or the other. The defense need not lay such flattering unction to its soul. Judge Sauley is fast recovering and will be on hand to give the defendant a speedy trial if he wants it.

THE jury in the Pat Kane murder case at Danville was not obtained till Saturday noon, nor until 50 men had to be summoned for examination as jurors. Commonwealth's Attorney John Sam Owsley, Jr., who spent Sunday at home, says the case will hardly be submitted before to-morrow. The evidence so far adduced is about the same as before, when strange as it may be there was a hung jury.

REV. WM. STOTT, who is in jail here, has been granted a new trial by the court of appeals. He was awaiting the action of the court on a sentence of 99 years by the Laurel circuit court for pursuing and killing the man who had dishonored his wife. The appellate court, through Judge Guffey, says the case would naturally excite, and arouse the fiercest passions and the evidence showing that the defendant became very much excited and angered and so continued all the time up to the killing, it was error for the lower court to refuse the defendant an instruction for manslaughter, and the case is reversed for that reason.

—The Union Normal College at Flat Lick, near Barbourville, was burned by incendiaries.

THE blizzard which struck us Friday and continued Saturday was very severe in the Western States, much damage being done and causing great suffering.

Sunday was a regular "weather breeder" here and it bred a snow yesterday, which began falling early in the morning and the oldest inhabitant never saw it fall as fast and as steady as it did all day. At this writing, 4:30 o'clock Monday, the snow is 8 inches deep and still coming. The weather dispatch read: "Rain or snow; warmer to-night."

Friday it rained like all let loose, Saturday it blew quite a spell, Sunday gave signs of a brighter time, but Monday it snowed like—hades.

The fellow who calls it the "Beautiful Snow,"

Deserves execration eternal, And should go when he dies to the place down below,

Described as the regions infernal.

Will Tribble may like it and the livery men.

But we without sleighs or money Who've to flounder around in snow to our knees

Don't think it so awfully funny.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Will E. Trimble, son of H. Green Trimble, was married at Somerset last week to Miss Lula, the pretty daughter of Mr. F. M. Barnes, of that city.

—John W. Coffee and Miss Gertrude Platt was married at New York Saturday. This may not interest our readers till it is told that they are museum freaks.

He is known as "The Skeleton Dude" and she plays the part of the fat woman. Together they weigh 551 pounds, of which the dude contributes only 56, his wife being nine times as heavy as he.

—George Toston, a Montana ranchman, saw a picture of Miss Sallie Todd, of Madison, and fell in love with it. He opened up a correspondence with the lady and in due time proposed and was accepted. Recently he sent her money to come to Montana and marry him and the news has been received that she arrived safely and was duly married to the man who will never know the delights and the delusions, the joys and the sorrows of a courtship. The young woman is a sister of Wm. Todd, who was lately sentenced to the penitentiary for life for the assassination of his brother, Matt Todd, near Richmond.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Mrs. Cramer, of Neenah, Wis., finished reading her Bible for the 25th time on December 31.

—The 20th anniversary of the consecration of Bishop Thomas U. Dudley was celebrated Sunday at Christ church, Louisville.

—Revs. Helm and Arnold are holding a sanctification meeting at McKendree, which is largely attended and has resulted in many professing absolution from sin and entire consecration.

—Rev. J. H. Boyett, of Vicksburg, Miss., will assist Rev. A. V. Sizemore in a protracted meeting to begin at the Baptist church in February. Mr. J. W. Beville, of St. Louis, will conduct the singing.

—Elder W. L. Williams stated in his sermon at Hustonville Sunday morning that during the 13 months since Jan. 1st, '94, he had received but $175 for his services as pastor. His members can't charge that their religion comes very high.

—It is reported that numbers of people about Stanford are going crazy over the "sanctification" doctrine. Perhaps therein lies the virtue of sanctification; it drives people crazy and thereby releases them from responsibility.—Mt. Vernon Eagle.

—Ground was broken last week on the Kentucky University campus preparatory to the erection of the new College of the Bible, which has been under advisement for the past few years. It is to cost $20,000 and be a model of convenience and comfort.—Press.

—Eld. J. A. McGarvey, now of Virginia, son of the president of the Bible College at Lexington, declined a call to the 3rd Christian church in Louisville because he objects to the use of an organ in religious worship. The brother is a good man to let stay where he is, though we can imagine no place in Virginia so benighted as to endure such a crank.

—Eld. W. L. Williams, who has been pastor of the Christian church at Hustonville for nearly 40 years, tendered his resignation Sunday. He stated that he believed there were members who preferred a change of pastors, and he thought himself that a younger and more active man would make a better pastor. The church will consider the resignation and give Mr. Williams an answer in a week or so. The old gentleman was mainly instrumental in building the church and during his pastorate has taken in over 800 members.

OF A LOCAL NATURE.

—A 400-lb. bear was killed in Harlan county last week.

—Col. Silas Adams stands an excellent chance to be door-keeper of the next House.

—Congressman McCreary is said to have written to a friend at Ashland that he has no hope of a passage at this session of the bill to divide Kentucky into two Federal court districts.

—A dispatch from Vicksburg, Miss., says that John Thompson, of Burnside, this State, shot and killed J. H. Sauley, wounded a policeman and an unknown negro on a O. & C. train near that city. Thompson was drunk.

—Oliver Holmes, aged 15 years, of Somerset, accidentally shot his mother Friday, while loading a 32 caliber rifle. The ball passed through the right breast and pierced the lung. There is no hope for her recovery.

—Died on the 20th, Mr. W. G. Wallace at his home on the Somerset and Crab Orchard road two miles north of Dabney. He died of pneumonia fever and had been sick but a short time.—Somerset Reporter. Mr. Wallace was a native of this county and an uncle of the Haydens.

—Judge Golden has released Fields and Atkins, who murdered Judge Combs in Perry county. Bail for the first named was fixed at $5,000, while $10,000 was made the price of the other man's liberty. Witnesses who swore against them are expected to be missing when the case is called again.
